

Dear Peggy -

Herewith the recipe for the Curry - It's at the bottom of the page - My friend Eileen used it in one of the contests & won 5th place.

My winning recipe is also included on the flyer. This is one which Harold had printed up and gave to his customers. The first part of the recipe is okay but the second part should either be omitted or changed into a more healthful cooking. It was beautiful when it was finished. However, even though not a healthy offering -

Your mother visited us at Hyattstown where we lived in the ground floor of an unfinished house.
The house was close to finished when we left and moved here but is no longer there. The state condemned the property to include it in a state park and destroyed all the buildings on it.

I'm sorry your mother never made it back to Maryland. I enjoyed her company when she visited us in the 60's and hoped she'd be able to return. I think of her from time to time. She did me a big favor by starting a card file system for me which I still keep up altho it gets overhauled about every two years.

There are other recipes which Harold thinks you would like to have. We've kept copies of all - or at least most - of them to give to people who ask for them. Most of them I haven't cooked in years. But when I was younger and more active, I did a lot of cooking and many of the best chefs in Washington liked to come out to me for Sunday dinner. One of them liked to come for Sunday breakfast, then would collect some vegetables from our garden and return to DC in time to open his restaurant for Sunday dinner, using some of the produce from our garden.

I enjoyed those days but everything changed when the President was killed. I no longer prepared food for the chefs and as time went on I did less and less cooking. Now my cooking, what there is of it, is done in the microwave, which is an insult to good food.

By now you are probably tired of reading all this. But I hope that between us Harold and I have given you a fair estimate of the importance the Wood Library has given to the archive here which is already being used in a limited way by students and some researchers.

We are sorry Shirley never got back to us.
We - she and I - last touch a long time ago, but I have thought of her and her intense interest in the JFK case many times. We would be happy to know that her work is entered here at Wood and I think she would be pleased also.

It was good talking with you and I hope that between us we have given you useful information.

Sincerely,
Lil Weinberg

Harold asked me to tell you that he spoke with Dr McKnight who is head of the history department at Hood, and he would like very much to have Shirley's collection joined to the information already there.
If you would like to contact him, his address is

Dr Gerald D McKnight
c/o Hood College Library 401 Rowmont Avenue
Frederick MD 21701

His home address is 5439 Annapolis Rd
Frederick MD 21702

and his telephone number is 301-473-5639.

He was very pleased at the prospect of getting the work that Shirley was so interested in and spent so much time and effort in collecting it. At the archive which has been established there everything will be available to researchers from outside as well as to those members of the student body who are interested in the subject.

I hope all this we have recorded herein is useful to you. We would all be happy to have the results of Shirley's work kept here at Hood along with all the others which are now or will be later there in the archive which was set up several years ago for Harold's work but which has expanded to accommodate several others - and Shirley's work will be in good company!
